A new website for NAC Canada

Waterloo. The New Apostolic Church Canada has a new website. A completely new and very fresh-looking layout greets visitors with a friendly “Welcome.” Changes include separate domains for new and registered visitors. An option to click to the French version makes the positive new image complete.

The News category gives readers a choice between national and international current events. The Church Locator provides addresses for New Apostolic congregations throughout all of Canada’s provinces. Another completely new feature is a protected intranet for ministers and other responsible individuals, which requires them to enter a special login.

In his letter to the congregations, District Apostle Leslie Latorcai adds his hope, that the users will find the new website interesting and a great place to visit. He writes: “There are new features available on this site facilitating communication throughout the nation – both to our members and to contacts in our surrounding communities. Each congregation is provided with a homepage with announcements promoting upcoming events and highlighting changes to regularly scheduled services."

Feel free to read the letter of District Apostle Leslie Latorcai to the Canadian congregations.

Click here to visit us: www.naccanada.org

30 January 2007