Words of Welcome

Chief Apostle Wilhelm Leber

My Dearest Young Sisters and Brothers,

“Christ: –my future!” This is the official motto of the European Youth Day 2009.

Around three years ago, during the early stages of coordinated planning with the District Apostles, we were pleased about the content, as well as each of the three words, in this exact order. Christ is our Lord – He reigns supreme. We advert to Him and His presence, He will be our future. In conclusion, He alone is not only an historical figure, but walks with us now and in the future. My wish is this: Let our motto touch you personally, and fascinate you. Take Christ with you in your future! Make this motto your own!

What does this mean to us?

Christ appears to us under many different circumstances: He is with us in every Divine Service, and in the smaller and larger congregations. Your sisters and brothers bear Christ in themselves, as well as the Holy Spirit. We end our prayers with His name. We encounter Christ everywhere: within the congregation, during life, in everyday living, in good as well as bad times. He is the Lord, of which the Holy Scripture speaks “He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together. And He is the head of the body, the church. He is the beginning and the firstborn from among the dead, so that in everything He might have supremacy. For God was pleased to have all His fullness dwell in Him,” (Colossians 1:17-19)

He should determine your future as well. Take Him along on your journey through your diminutive world. Christ is your God, He is your friend, He is your guide. I wish you, and the many thousands of young sisters and brothers, I wish for myself, and for all of my Apostles, all sisters and brothers all over the world, that we recognize this One, over and over again. Christ is our future – your future – my future!

In this regard and aside from good discussion, interesting presentations, and Divine Services full of meaningful content, I wish you great joy amongst one another. May our European Youth Day emanate this wonderful initiative to all New Apostolic congregations around the world; we have a future: Christ!

I send my love to all of you,
Yours,

Words of Welcome

District Apostle Armin Brinkmann

Dear Youth Day Participants,

Community is of great importance to people. Jesus sought community within a small circle in Bethany, and congregated with thousands. The first Christians remained firm in the community. Today, we administer community in many different ways.

During these days, we come together as a special community. A Youth Day is taking place in Düsseldorf for the very first time, to which all European sisters and brothers have been invited. I am sincerely happy to greet you, and wish you a joyful, enthusiastic, impressive, and unforgettable community experience.

We want encounter to one another, listen to others, have mutual discussions, and learn from the next. If we are successful in doing so, than “having community” is not only the desire, rather, a fulfillment for you and every individual. During these days, Europe isn’t just a small village. We meet within just a few square kilometers, become friends, and share valuable knowledge with one another. I welcome all of you, who are arriving from different countries of Europe. I also welcome all participants from beyond Europe. The connecting elements of our belief will quickly help to overcome language or cultural barriers.

Young persons of the most diverse origin, nature, interests, cultures and capabilities belong to our community. May each and every one of them feel comfortable in the Youth Day community.

You will discover that the exhibition grounds’ location, and environment in Düsseldorf, is ideal for our plans. My special thanks go to the official department(s) of the Messe Düsseldorf, who have understood our requests and made them possible. I thank the Chief Apostle and all District Apostles for supporting unusual, unconventional decisions during the preparation phase.

I would like to thank all of those people supporting the European Youth Day: during its realization as well as after the event. I thank all of you for coming. This is your Youth Day!

I wish you and all participants many amazing experiences for life and your belief, good discussions, lasting friendships, community experience, and the experience of being a member of a wonderful church!

In this spirit, I send you my sincere greetings,
Yours,

Words of Welcome

Bundespräsident Horst Köhler

Berlin, 19. March 2009

Dear Participants of the European Youth Day in Düsseldorf.

I sincerely thank you for the invitation to visit you in May in Düsseldorf. As you know, I am bound to many appointments during these days, particularly the celebration of the 60th Foundation of the Establishment of the Federal Republic of Germany. Therefore, I am unable to be with you.

However, I would like to send you sincere greetings. I am happy that many thousands of young people will be gathering in Christian solidarity; to celebrate the idea of the coalescence of Europe, across the country's borders. Those remaining open for the challenges of time, not closing their minds in anxiety and inflexible behavior patterns, can truly design the future. The youth is particularly called upon to contribute their creative ideas to distinguish Europe in the future with the openness, tolerance and coherence.

The Christian churches can make their own contribution. Europe, as we know it today, would be unimaginable without Christianity. Therefore, I encourage you to further build up this idea and mutually design the future.

I wish your youth meeting many interesting encounters, a vivid exchange of opinions and exciting discussions, the experience of cooperation between young adults and adults, women and men, joined together in the strength of the faith.

With best regards,

Herbert Kehler

Words of Welcome

1st Mayor Dirk Elbers

Dear Participants of the European Youth Day 2009,

I warmly welcome you to Düsseldorf! I am very happy to be able to greet you on the occasion of the European Youth Day 2009 of the New Apostolic Church. I wish you success for this huge meeting of young Christians from Germany, Europe, and from some countries beyond Europe. This gathering of young Christians of very diverse nationalities and origins offers the opportunity of mutually exchanging opinions concerning the definition of individual Christian values in a modern world. You are called upon to discuss how the Gospel in life, as an individual focal point, and as a guidepost, can be acted upon.

Düsseldorf has often acted as a hosting city for large Christian events. The most recent event took place in 2005, when the world's youth came to Düsseldorf to celebrate World Youth Day [Weltjugendtag]. Under the guiding principle of the late Pope John Paul II, "Open the Doors for Christ", the participants publicly gave their confession to faith. The joyful spirit, the jolt of belief, and the enthusiastic word of God were perceptible throughout the entire city. Even today, these impressions echo in the city's Catholic congregations. In connection thereto, a so-called "Missionale 2009" takes place between Pentecost and Corpus Christi.

Christian values play a great role in my daily work as a mayor. As a practicing Christian, I view it as my responsibility and assignment to orient my actions and my decisions accordingly; although the church and the state operate separately and independent of one another. Therefore, full of expectation, I look forward to the New Apostolic Church's initiative. It shifts the Christian values into the focal point of Düsseldorf's public society.

The European Church Day stands under the motto "Christ: my future!” In my opinion, this guiding principle is relevant for the life of each individual, and for society as a whole. It is important that a modern, international, and urban society such as Düsseldorf orients itself to Christian values.

Charity, solidarity, and the feeling of community are needed all over the world. Within the family, in schools, commercial businesses, associations and clubs, many goals could be achieved in a peaceful, understanding dialog with one another. The guidelines of action should be ‘together and for each other’, instead of against each other and apart.

These and many other questions will be dealt with by the participants at the European Youth Day of the New Apostolic Church.

I wish you fruitful discussions during your visit.

Enjoy your stay in Düsseldorf, experience the city as one of hospitality, which greets you with open arms.

Come to Düsseldorf as guests... and leave the city as friends!

Yours truly

Arrival/Departure/Sightseeing...

'Messe' East/Stockumer Kirchstrasse

The logo VRR and VRS displayed on the exhibition passes entitles all EYD-participants to use of the public transportation systems of these two networks (with the exception of IC and ICE). This also includes the entire Ruhr area, as well as Greater Cologne/Bonn.

U78

Route U78 of the Rheinbahn commutes every 10 minutes between the subway stations “Düsseldorf Hbf (Bstg1)” and “LTU arena/ Messe Nord”. The last U78-train departs Düsseldorf Main Train Station at 0:30 am, arriving LTU arena at 1:00 am.

U79

With Düsseldorf’s Main Train Station as the starting point, the NachtExpress (night express) commutes to Düsseldorf’s districts on an hourly basis.

For night owls on the go in Düsseldorf, the NachtExpress U79 commutes to/from the stops “Düsseldorf Hauptbahnhof” and “Messe Ost/Stockumer Kirchstrasse” as well as “Freiligrathplatz, Bstg 3/4”.

Attention: this line has not been increased for the EYD2009.

Bus-Linie 896

As deemed necessary, a direct bus connection (Line 896) will be made available for EYD-participants arriving via the Düsseldorf Airport, and will shuttle between the Düsseldorf Airport Terminals A/B/C and the exhibition [Messe Congress] –North Entrance.

Service employees from NRW will then greet the groups at the airport and hand over information, as well as for the return trip on Sunday. The exact arrival times and number of persons travelling via the airport, and thus, the connections required, had yet to be determined as of the day of print.

Arrival

...with a passenger car

1,200 parking spaces are available on parking lot P1.

Please follow the orientation system from the autobahn to “Messe/Arena/P1”. When using navigation devices, please enter: “Düsseldorf, Am Staad”. Messe AG service employees will assign parking spaces on site.

...a motor home

Locations for motor homes can be found on parking lot P1. Messe AG service employees will assign motor home locations.

...busses

Arriving busses will be assigned consecutive (bus) numbers, so they can be readily found at the time of departure. We recommend noting the number of the bus (assigned during arrival) on your exhibition pass. The locations of the busses for the return trip on Sunday should be parked in consecutive order of the designated bus number on parking lot P1.

Baggage / “Dress Code”

No cloak rooms or lockers are available on the exhibition grounds. All participants are requested to travel light, e.g. backpack or travel bag. Those spending the nights in the youth camps on the exhibition grounds or in private quarters should bring along the following: camping mat or air mattress (maximum size: 2 meters x 0.80 meters), sleeping bag and pillow. Please don't forget your toilet bag, change of clothes and towels. If necessary, exceptions can be agreed upon with the hostel parents at the private quarters.

To be left at home: valuables such as jewelry, electronic devices, larger amounts of cash, festive clothing. A skirt or slacks is suitable for the Divine Service and as top apparel, you are invited to wear the European Youth Day t-shirt found in the greeting package.

Scheduled ministers may check their black suits at a wardrobe in the Congress Center, where the suit can be ironed if necessary.

Local Mass Transit

<http://www.bahn.de/p/view>

When entering “nur Nahverkehr“, all VRR and VRS bus and railway connections (in the Ruh area, Düsseldorf and around Cologne) will be displayed. They can be used daily, free of charge.

Sightseeing in Düsseldorf

Düsseldorf, as the seat of the State’s government has much to offer. That’s why we offer you free guided city tours in and around Düsseldorf. From Thursday to Saturday, we’ll introduce you to “Kunst und Kultur” [Art and Culture], the Old Town and Kö, wander with you “Am Rhein entlang” [along the River Rhine], take a quick trip to Japan or travel back in time to the baroque era. Get to know Düsseldorf from a totally different viewpoint! All routes will be led in German, English, French, Spanish and Russian and, as far as possible, barrier-free. A sign language interpreter is available upon request. You’ll find information for city tours in the entrance area “Nord – Level 0”.

Registration/Admission Control

Based on group registrations, the total number of participants will be determined at the EYD2009. For this reason and upon arrival at the EYD2009, all group leaders shall register their attendance, including the number of persons within their respective group(s). Registration will take place in entrance area “Nord” at one of the 25 registration desks. The registration desks will be continuously occupied from Thursday, the 21st of May up to Sunday, the 24th of May until start of the Divine Service. After registration, each participant receives a welcome gift in Hall 2. The gifts are packed in a small backpack. This means, no one has to bring their old backpack to the European Youth Day. In addition, you’ll receive the EYD-Guide (either in German, English, French or Russian) and the European Youth Day t-shirt (from XS to XXL). The latter may be worn to the Divine Service on Sunday. Groups arriving from outside Europe will receive their exhibition pass at the registration desks. All passes for participants from Europe have been sent to the groups via mail or regional churches prior to the EYD2009. Passes issued for group members unable to participate must be returned to one of the registration desks. Missing or incorrect passes will be re-issued, and handed out during the EYD2009 in a timely manner. Issuance of “Day Passes” is not permitted! Post-registrations during the EYD2009 shall be examined on an individual basis.

InfoPoint

Two InfoPoints (designated with an “I”) can be found at the “Nord” entrance, . The central InfoPoint is located in Hall 7, directly behind the escalator. Further InfoPoints can be found in halls 7a and 6, and display EYD-relevant, multi-lingual information (made available by the Project-Groups and SV’s).

In addition, InfoPoint employees will be tending to the dormitory halls and Scouts (identifiable by their corresponding vests) will be walking the exhibition grounds. On the day of arrival, Scouts will be posted at the airports and train stations in Düsseldorf and Cologne/Bonn. Should questions arise, despite the extensive information listed in the Guide, these issues can be clarified at the InfoPoints, and by the Scouts.

Sports Program

The field of sports represents a supplementary contribution within the overall EYD-Program.

For this reason a central activity is offered, including the “Europe Youth Games” (including three modernized disciplines), Mini-Games (variations of basketball and futsal), as well as Fun-Games (rodeo, trampoline, crossbow with toy arrows and offers of fitness).

Thursday and Friday begin early with the fitness segment, which, during the course of the day, is concentrated on the European Youth Games as a central activity. Friday is particularly complemented by rodeo and trampoline. Crossbow and mini-games are also available on both days. The sports program comes to a close each late afternoon, respectively. late afternoon.

Upon request, use of the adjacent “Rheinbad” is made available to all EYD-participants free of charge.

News Coverage

A European Youth Day Newspaper with current information, “hot off the press”, awaits you on Saturday and Sunday.

Those who stayed home can find current information and reports on the website www.ejt2009.eu.

The official EYD-Magazine will be released just weeks after the European Youth Day. In addition, comprehensive coverage, compiled on a DVD, (including excerpts of the events and Divine Service), is planned. Information concerning the distribution channel(s) and a release date will be posted on the EYD-Website promptly.

Taking pictures during events is allowed from your seat. Designated photographers and reporters are dispatched for official coverage.

Welcome to the European Youth Day of the New Apostolic Church!

Conduct

The European Youth Day is a major event with over 40,000 sisters, brothers, and their guardians. A friendly atmosphere is possible if everyone is considerate and helpful.

The individual participants are organized into groups. Each group has a responsible leader.

We kindly request that you show your best conduct; both on and off event premises.

Please mute your cell phones during the Divine Service, the concert, and of course, at night.

The offers listed in the program are open to all participants. However, some event venues are limited on space. We thank you for your patience, should you be unable to attend due to space limitations.

Security

Access to the event grounds is only permitted with a visible and valid participant's pass.

Always carry your valuable possessions with you, and do not leave them behind in your dormitory hall. Lockers and cloak rooms are not available. No liability is assumed for lost items.

On the exhibition premises, the instructions of the hall management and security service(s), as well as police and fire department(s), must be followed promptly.

Escape routes are designated in all halls. Upon arrival, please immediately acquaint yourself with the alarm and evacuation rules, designated meeting points, the location of fire extinguishers, and directions for escape routes. All stairs, hallways, aisles, escape routes and entrances are to be kept clear

Lit candles, and any open flame, as well as the operation of electrical devices such as immersion heaters, hot plates or other such devices are not permitted in the exhibition halls and dormitories.

Non-smoking rules apply in all halls, in the LTU arena, the restrooms and shower facilities, on the sports field, in all churches, schools, gyms, private quarters and other facilities.

Smoking is only permitted in the designated smoking areas located on the open-air exhibition grounds. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited on the entire event premises and in the dormitories. This prohibition also applies to any substance which applies under the Narcotics Law. It is prohibited to carry weapons. Pets are not permitted. Upon request, guide dogs are permitted. The police and fire department(s) may undertake video surveillance on the exhibition premises as part of their assigned duties during the event.

Accommodations

Churches, private quarters, schools, gyms and other accommodating quarters are to be used exclusively for overnight stays. When staying overnight in church buildings, we ask that you conduct yourself in a manner appropriate to the dignity of the location.

The youth camps located on the exhibition grounds are exclusively for the use of overnight stays and to rest. Access is only possible via designated entrances and exits. For security reasons, participants over-nighting shall have access restricted to their assigned dormitory. When entering the youth camp, your exhibition pass must be shown to the security service unrequested.

The rest period in the accommodation quarters begins at 08:00 p.m.; lights out and silence between 12:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m.! During this time, diligent consideration of all participants is requested.

Instructions of the hall supervisors and the security services must be followed in all youth camps. In all overnight districts, the group leader, in cooperation with the local agents, is responsible for compliance with the rules.

Environmentally friendly behavior

We're ensuring an environmentally friendly design of the EYD 2009. We kindly request that all participants observe an environmentally friendly behavior during their stay. Please keep all quarters and sanitary facilities clean. Waste is to be disposed of in the containers provided. Furniture is to be handled with care. Damages are to be immediately reported to the security services or to group leaders and local contact partners.

General Rules

Sanitary Facilities

250 showers are available on the open-air grounds. They are open between 6:00 a.m. and 12:00 p.m. To allow all participants the opportunity to shower, please allow a maximum showering time of ten minutes. Additional shower facilities are located in the Rheinbad, and in the changing rooms of the sports premises. Towels must be brought with you. There are no showering opportunities available in the overnight districts.

Miscellaneous

In the event of questions or difficulties, please contact security services. Local contact persons are available in the overnight districts. Please contact First Aid in the case of injury or illness. During the Divine Service, it is kindly requested that disruptive film and photography activities are refrained from.

Each participant irrevocably gives his/her consent to the EYD2009 Düsseldorf gGmbH or their agent the free use of the participant's picture or voice. This also applies to all media created, replicated or transmitted in connection with the EYD 2009 event, particularly for photographs, recordings of video and/or audio, live-transmissions, as well as broadcast in audiovisual media.

The Messe Düsseldorf and LTU arena's General Rules as well as the Caravan-Center's terms of use are an integral part of these General Rules. Violation of the General Rules can result in a banning from the premises through the organizer or the owner, and expulsion from the event can be issued.

Environmental Protection

Dear Young Sisters and Brothers, dear Participants of the European Youth Day,

The New Apostolic Church is anticipating approximately 35,000 visitors in Düsseldorf. During the planning of major events, many issues must be taken into consideration. A very important issue is environmental protection. Environmental protection covers the measures taken to prevent dangerous emissions. This means environmental impact as defined in the Federal Emission Protection Act: Which defines dangerous emissions as any activity, which, according to type, impact or length, which could lead to significant disadvantages or annoyance for the general public or neighborhood?"

The LORD God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to work it and take care of it (Genesis 2:15): to care for the development of the Creation. As Christians we understand life, as well as the world, as a gift of God... and as a task. Therefore, we cannot allow the world's goods to be handled irresponsibly, without consideration of the well-being of future generations. As our responsibility to God, toward other humans, and particularly, the disadvantaged as well as coming generations, we endeavor to lead a joint, sustainable lifestyle.

Through an environmentally friendly design of the European Youth Day 2009, we set an example for others. We encourage the European Regional Churches to design their future regional Youth Days in an environmentally friendly manner, and encourage other companies and organizations of major events to do the same. Through spiritual impulses and practical tips, as well as through role models experienced in public relations, we encourage the young participants to contribute to the preservation of the Creation through their words and actions.

Due to the scope of the upcoming Youth Day, it is necessary to observe a few issues: To keep the impact on our environment as minimal as possible. We, as Christians, should take advantage of these special days to increase our environmental contribution. In this way, we all contribute to the global efforts of protecting our planet. What can we, as participants, contribute on behalf of the environment?

Use of Public Transportation

During these four days, please avoid using your own car and please, please use the public transportation system. Should the use of your own car be required, please carpool.

Benefits:

Energy consumption is reduced!

- iCO₂-contamination (carbon dioxide) is reduced!
- iParticulate matter emission is reduced!
- iLess traffic noise!

Waste Disposal

Where crowds gather, a lot of waste is created. During the European Youth Day 2009, things that have fulfilled their purpose must be disposed of as iwasteiFor example: packaging, sanitary products, and left over food. Please set a stellar standard in your behavior. Please sort your waste either as recycling or waste material before throwing it away in the designated containers made available.

Benefits:

The costs for disposal and cleaning decline, and energy consumption is reduced!

Don't Smoke

Please refrain from smoking during the Youth Day. The other sisters and brothers will be thankful to you for this. Regardless, for safety reasons, smoking is not permitted in any exhibition hall.

Benefits:

The disposal of cigarette butts and packaging is eliminated. During the European Youth Day, it's obvious that we would like to behave in an ideal, friendly and correct manner towards our sisters and brothers, guests, fellow men and guest families during the European Youth Day.

Summary: The major European Youth Day 2009 event leaves a positive impression!

What responsibilities does a group leader have during the European Youth Day 2009 of the New Apostolic Church?

Group leaders register youth online in EJOS for the European Youth Day, collect the participant fees, take over travel planning, distribute the participant passes, and are contact persons or organizers. Group Leaders assume a key role during the European Youth Day. However, what are their specific tasks, and what responsibilities do they hold? Specific inquiries concerning the liability, obligation and mandated supervision in reference to the youth of their own groups, particularly against the background of the participation of minors, have reached the organizers of the European youth Day. Thus, specifically the areas of obligatory supervision and liability have been legally scrutinized. The central message is that the standard mandated supervision for young groups applies to the European Youth Day. These are equal to the existing regulations concerning obligatory supervision for youth events of the New Apostolic Church. Information concerning obligatory supervision can be found at: www.aufsichtspflicht.de. In addition, during the European Youth Day, the obligatory supervised persons are insured through an event manager liability insurance policy for any occurring claims applicable to civil laws

Further tasks of the group leaders in detail:

1. To assemble the participants in one group and registration via EJOS (EJT Online System) (www.ejt2009.eu)
2. Collection and wire transfer of participant fees to one of the regional churches' bank account(s) (Beginning of 2009). Obtaining legal guardian permission for participating minors.
3. Travel planning (train, bus, plane, automobile), if necessary, in cooperation with the district or regional church.
4. Briefing participants in reference to the applicable General Rules.

Responsibilities of a Group Leader

5. Main contact person for the event agents and the group's participants. Collection and distribution of participant passes (prior to the EYD via regular mail).
6. Accompaniment and supervision of the group of participants (for larger mixed groups, it is recommended that further responsible male and female persons be designated internally).
7. On-site accreditation (Entrance "Nord Messe Düsseldorf"), and receipt of the greeting package.
8. Mutual overnight stay with the group of participants.

Meals

"What's for lunch and where do I find the cafeteria?" Cafeterias are planned in halls 3 and 4, where we offer breakfast, lunch and dinner in buffet-style. The buffets will be continually opened from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.; with a smooth transition from breakfast to lunch, and lunch to dinner. In this manner, everybody will get food and beverages all day long. Each participant gets a tray to carry the meal.

Tables and benches will be made available in the cafeterias, so that meals may be taken seated. After the Divine Service on Sunday, each participant will receive a lunch package for the journey home.

What will be offered? Well, we don't want to ruin any surprise; however, we can let you in on:

Breakfast: Rolls with butter/margarine, marmalade, honey, Nutella®, granola, cheese, cold cuts, fruit, yogurt, etc.

Lunch: On Friday and Saturday we'll serve warm lunch. Of course, we have also made accommodations for vegetarians.

The lunch package will include: sandwiches, fruit, possibly chips, yogurt, a candy bar, etc.

Dinner: We'll be offering different types of bread as well as butter, margarine, cheese, cold cuts, salads, fruit, yogurt etc.

Enough water and juices will be available for all meals. At breakfast, coffee and tea will be served. Beverages are also available in Hall 6 at the Regional Churches' booths, as well as in the sports arena. In the cafeteria, a booth serving special dietary foodstuff for those suffering allergies (e.g. lactose intolerances, gluten-free, diabetic food) will be provided.

The Project Group Meals is certain; No one will have to go along hungry and thirsty – we have the commitment of serving meals that will satisfy the participants of the European Youth Day.

Information concerning the Events

The halls available are unable to fully accommodate all interested persons. For your convenience, transmission stations/screens have been installed at strategic points, allowing you to watch the current event in best quality.

Accommodations in the Dormitory Halls

Seven Dormitory Halls

Seven halls with a total of over 95,000 m² of space for approximately 20,000 sleeping spots are available on the exhibition premises. Each dormitory hall accommodates a closed youth camp with up to 3,500 overnight guests. The halls will be occupied by both males and females (with the exception of Hall 12). Only those participants that have been assigned to a specific youth camp will have access to it; therefore, keep your participant pass at-the-ready for admission control.

Behavior

Mutual understanding and consideration is required to engender a harmonious atmosphere. For this reason, the General Rules apply. Please be so kind and observe them. Since we all need our sleep, the rest period in the dormitory halls starts at 10:00 p.m. Lights out and silence starts at 00:00 am and lasts until 6:00 am. Anyone requiring rest during the day may do so in their dormitory hall; they're open 24 hours a day. Please contact Security Services or the hostel keepers of your dormitory hall, should disruptive behavior be determined.

Care and Supervision

You'll be accompanied by responsible hostel keepers and a security team in each of the seven youth camps. They are there around the clock as your direct contact persons, and for any issues you might have concerning the accommodations. Please observe their instructions.

Safety

We start abiding safety precautions on our own by observing the rules of non-smoking and no open flame. Should violations be observed, please immediately inform the Security Service/Hostel keepers. In any case: please acquaint yourselves with the location of the closest fire extinguisher, and become acquainted with the escape routes and emergency exits (see the hall plan). In the event of an emergency, please immediately follow the instructions given by the Security Service.

Your Sleeping Spot

Each sleeping spot is 1.20 meters wide and 2.20 meters long, and offers enough room for your camping mat and travel luggage. Several hundred sleeping spots accommodate one sleeping zone; this will be designated with a letter posted on the floor at the corners of the sleeping zones (see dormitory hall plans). Our recommendation is, for the sake of orientation, please note the letter of your personal sleeping zone on your participant pass.

Security Services will assign you a sleeping spot. In this case, the sleeping zone will be continually filled; no free choices are given. Should your group arrive together, it is possible that you'll be assigned a common area in the sleeping zone.

Special Hall 12

Some groups have requested the separation of genders. For this reason, Hall 12 has been separated in the middle, with a curtain.

Accommodations in the Dormitory Halls

The group sleeps in the same hall, but is, nonetheless separated according to gender. This also applies for groups that have been assigned to Hall 12, even if they have not requested gender-separated accommodations.

Baggage and Valuables

Please store your baggage on your personal sleeping spot. Valuables should be carried with you. During the Divine Service on Sunday, please leave your baggage on your sleeping spot and pick it up, after the Divine Service, for your trip home.

Restroom Facilities

Restroom facilities are available in all dormitory halls. In addition, sanitary facilities, set up on the exhibition grounds, are also available.

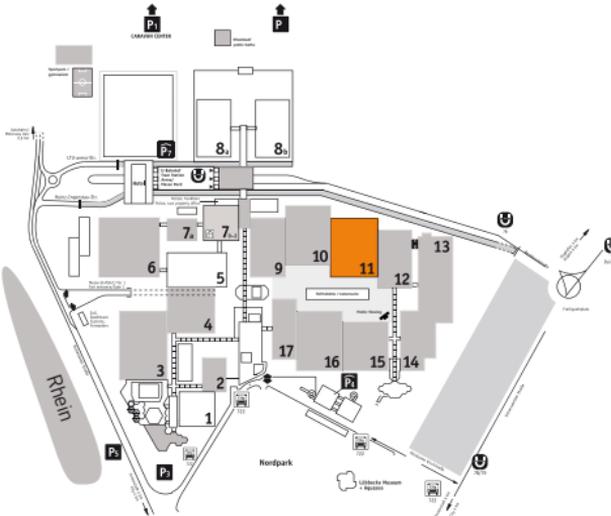

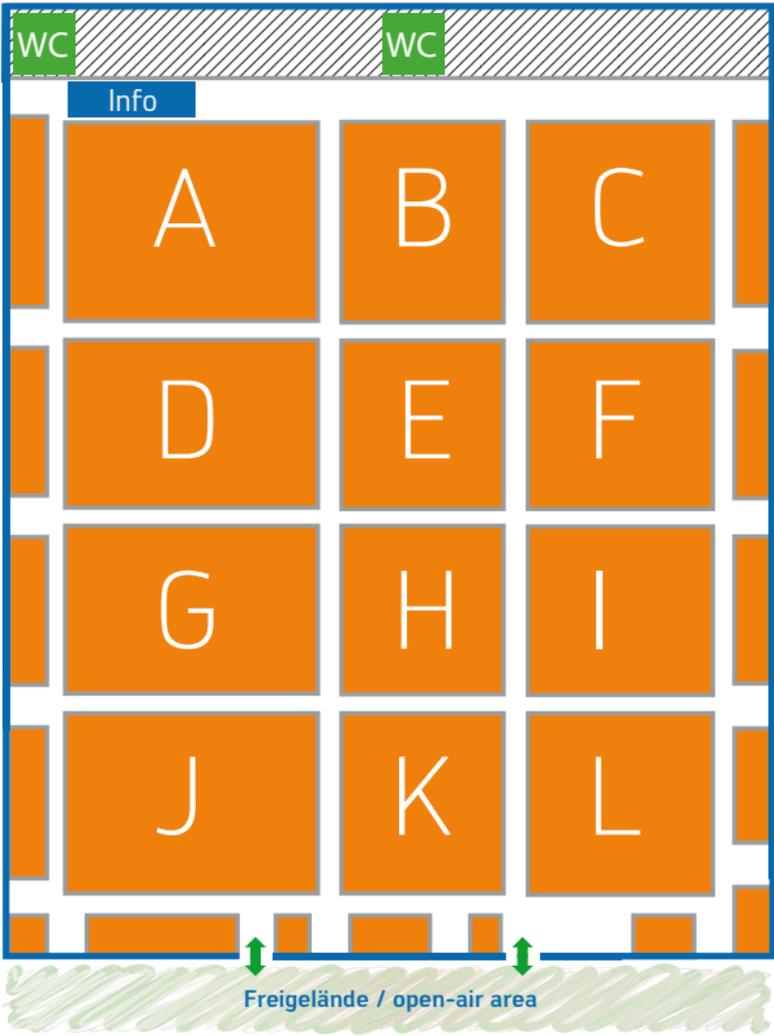

Four Sanitary Islands

Our sanitary islands are available and located around the dormitory halls. Please take a look at the total overview for the locations. Each sanitary island is equipped with showers, sinks, changing rooms, and areas with blow-dryers located in tents. The restroom booths are located in temporary containers. Please leave the facilities clean. All restroom facilities are open around the clock. The showering tents are opened from 6:00 am to 12:00 pm. To give everyone the opportunity to shower, we kindly ask that you limit your showering time to a maximum of 5 to 7 minutes.

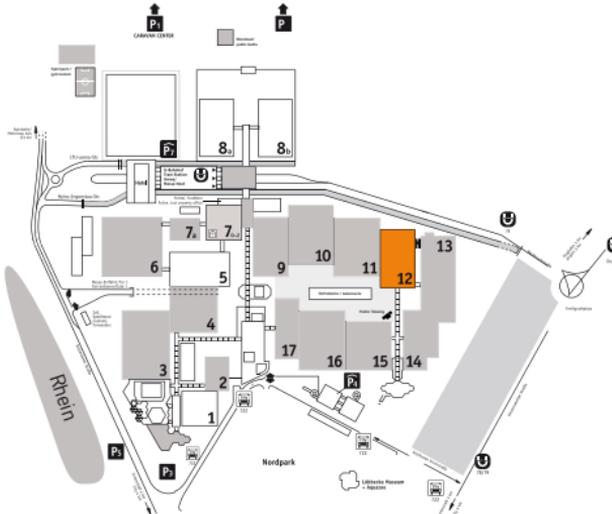

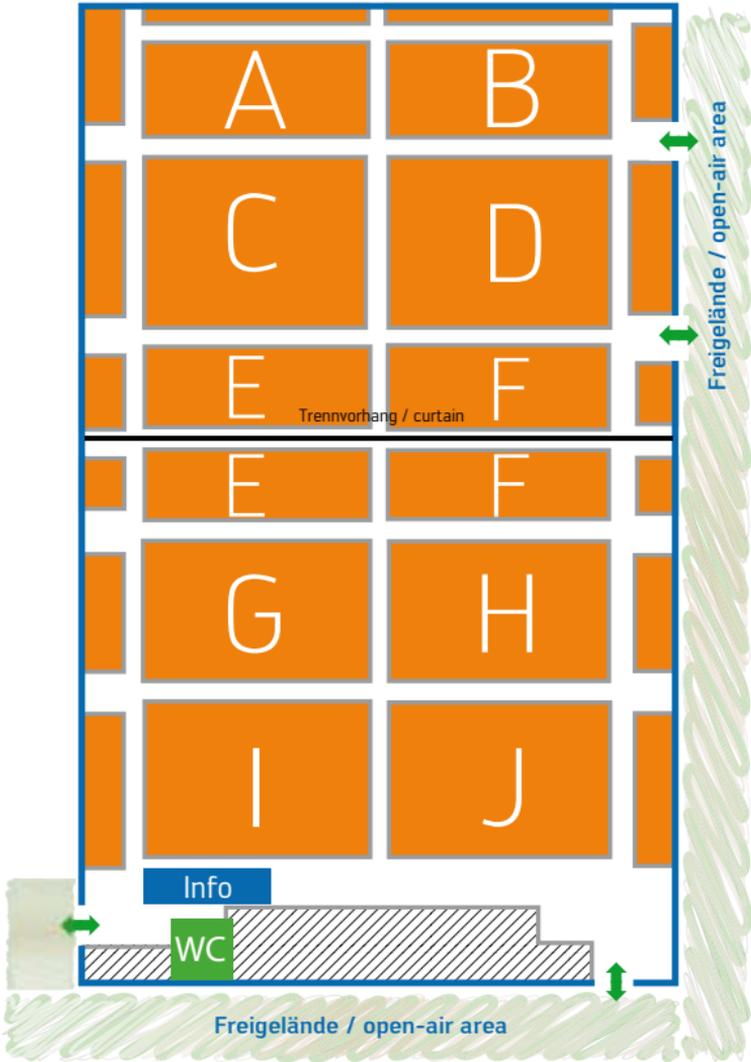

Sportpark/Rheinbad

Showers are also available in the Sportpark (track and field hall). All participants are entitled to free admission to the nearby Rheinbad (indoor/outdoor swimming pool).

Description of the Exhibition Grounds and Halls

Exhibition Premises

The exhibition premises are divided into five event halls: 6, 7A, 7.0 up to 7.2, and the arena. It is also divided into seven Dormitory Halls (11 up to 17), and the Catering Halls 3 and 4. Hall 2 is designated as a depot. The halls are grouped around the open-air area available to the youth. An open-air event will take place on the grounds on Saturday evening. During the entire European Youth Day, the replica of a tabernacle located on the open-air area can be toured.

The exhibition premises is primarily accessible via the entrance area "Nord". The entrance area "Nord" lies directly at the train station and parking lots, and is the central area for information and registration. Approximately 20,000 young people shall be accommodated in seven dormitory halls. Public screening of selected events and programs, as well as important event information, will be broadcasted to the various halls and exterior grounds.

Entrance Area “Nord“:

This is the central area for arrivals and information. The participants will register at one of the 25 registration desks before moving on (via escalator) to the central information area. There, a booth offering city tours can also be found. From there, participants can access the event and dormitory halls, the catering areas, and exit to the exterior grounds.

Hall 7.0:

Hall 7.0 is the first hall accessed when arriving from the entrance area “Nord“. A large forum, featuring a stage and approximately 400 seats can be found for various activities. These include a “Be active! “- workshop, the Youth Editorial staff, a “Youth-Editorial-Jungle” as well as an “Idea-Island”. A highly visible and centrally located “i-net-Café” can be found close to the InfoPoint.

Hall 7.1:

Hall 7.1 lies above Hall 7.0 and can be reached via escalator. A small, centrally-located forum can be found there, with a stage and seating for approximately 150. Other areas include six workshops, a music pavilion with live music, and two centrally-located communication islands

.“I’d like to talk to you“, invites you for discussions. A picture gallery with the title: “I Am: Words of Jesus” invites you to reflect.

Hall 7.2:

Hall 7.2 lies above Hall 7.1. The entire hall is a gigantic rest area. A “Chill-Out-Zone” is located near a wall. Youngsters can relax on pillows, and listen to live music being performed on a small stage. Six “Soul-Care-Help-Desks” can be found on the opposite side, where youngsters can talk to ministers in pastoral-care discussions in six different languages. A centrally-located “Bistro” invites one for discussions. Further stations include: a prayer garden “Walk

Description of the Exhibition Grounds and Halls

the Lord's Prayer", an area called "(Your) Path with God", Paths of Intercession with the title: "Please pray for me" and a meditation zone "Praying with songs".

Hall 7A:

Hall 7A has a 200m² stage and audience seating for 2,000 guests. With the help of two large screens to the left and right of the stage, one can view the performance on stage, even from the last row of seats.

The auditorium is bordered at the rear with exhibition walls, wherein the colonnades from Hall 7.0 to Hall 6 can be found. In this colonnade, an exhibition of photos submitted by the sisters and brothers will be displayed.

Hall 6:

Hall 6 is the exhibition's largest event hall (with the exception of the arena). A podium of approx. 250m² can be found on the west side. At the front, there is an auditorium with standing room for approximately 6,700 people. The remaining walls feature exhibition booths of the Regional Churches, Publishing House, the Handicapped, as well as the Group "Regenbogen" and of the NAK-karitativ.

The Regional Churches' booths frame an area for games that is located between the auditorium and the east wall. Two large screens, to the right and left of the podium, and two further screens in the middle of the hall, ensure a good view of the programs running in the entire hall area.

Hall 2:

In Hall 2, the youth will receive their backpacks. Before the Divine Service on Sunday, baggage will be stored in Hall 2 by those sisters and brothers who have not slept overnight in the dormitory halls. As a safety concern, belongings are not allowed to be taken into the arena.

Main access can be found in the area of the subway station “Süd/Plateau”. Further entrances are located on the northern side of the LTU Arena.

For visitor orientation, the LTU arena has installed a comprehensive orientation system in the colonnades.

The passes are color-coded according to the assigned area within the lower or upper tier.

We kindly request that you follow the instructions of the attendants posted in front of the blocks, to fill the LTU arena quickly.

Admission:

Friday, 22.05.2009 Opening Event

Admission from 8:30 am

Friday, 22.05.2009 Night of Lights

Admission from 18:30 pm

Sunday, 24.05.2009 Festive Divine Service

Admission from 7:30 am

To ensure a balanced occupation of the hall, admission will take place via turnstiles. Due to the required time, EYD-participants should take their seats in the LTU arena at least one hour before the start of the event.

Service Staff in the Colonnades

Prior to the event, a conspicuously uniformed service staff will be working the colonnades in the LTU arena. They will assist you in finding your area.

Baggage Storage during the Closing Divine Service in the LTU arena

For safety reasons, baggage may not be taken into the LTU arena (with the exception of EYD-backpacks). Baggage (camping mats, backpacks, etc.) can be checked in Hall 2 (cloak room hall) for storage, and picked up after the conclusion of the Closing Divine Service.

Disabled Persons / Wheelchairs Users

Visitors dependent on wheelchairs should park in the parking garage P7, Level -1, Level -2, or Area K9 (main stairwell Nr. 9 with elevators). From there, you can enter an elevator that takes you to the “Promenade”. Move on to the blocks 24-29, where you’ll find sufficient room for wheelchair users and their escorts.

For disabled Youth Day visitors not travelling with a youth group, blocks 29 and 30 offer sufficient room. Here, translation for the hearing impaired and deaf takes place in sign language. In the LTU arena, a limited number of headsets are available for the hearing impaired seated in blocks 29/30.

The “SV7 Handicapped-Team” is available during the entire EYD at the main number +49 (0)160-2 51 32 89. A resting place is located on Level 02 in Box 35 (bear right after leaving the elevator). Another source of rest and relaxation can be found in the Welcome-Zone, also located on Level 02. Information for a visit to the LTU arena can also be found at: <http://www.LTU-arena.de> (“Our Service for disabled visitors”). For safety reasons, the LTU arena is obligated to the following guidelines:

“Platforms on the lower tier are to be made available for wheelchair users. On the LTU-stand, these platforms are located in the blocks 1-8; on the Stadtparkasse-Düsseldorf-Stand these can be found in the blocks 24-29. Escorts of wheelchair users are seated in that block in the respective row located in front of the wheelchair user.”

Further detailed information will be made available to the sisters and brothers according to their registration.

Seating for Sign Language

A translation into sign language for hearing impaired EYD-participants is reserved on the lower tier of the Stadtparkassen-Stand located in Block 28. Information concerning reserved seats will be conveyed directly to the EYD-Participant by their attendant.

Room for the Lead-Choir

Seating for the Lead-Choir is reserved in blocks 28-25, Rows 12-27 (red area).

Divine Service

Offertory Boxes

The offertory boxes have been placed on the Holy Communion tables situated within the LTU arena at all block entrances.

Holy Communion

Attendees of the Divine Service shall receive Holy Communion at their seats. The Priests will serve two rows simultaneously.

The ushers will, if necessary, give special information accordingly before the Divine Service.

Gluten-free wafers

If required, the Divine Service attendees may bring along gluten-free wafers from their home congregation. These sisters and brothers will be dispensed the Holy Communion and then exchange the wafer received for the gluten-free wafer they have brought themselves.

Children/Toddlers

Seats for parents with children are reserved in blocks A+B on the lower tier. Located directly above these seats, a VIP-room offering optimal space for approximately 200 parents with small children can be found. From there, an unobstructed view of the LTU arena is possible. A video and audio transmission is available. We recommend that parents with small children take advantage of this room. For safety reasons, strollers and buggies may not be parked in the colonnades, in the block entrances, or within the rows of seats. Adequate storage alternatives are given in the above mentioned area. Access via the elevator in the area K2 – Level 1 is possible.

Black Suits and Dispensers of Holy Communion

A storage room for black suits belonging to those dispensing Holy Communion is located in Hall 4. The suits may be stored there upon arrival. To prevent mix-ups, we recommend leaving a note with your name and address in the suit pocket. On Sunday, before the Divine Service, Priests have the opportunity to iron their suits. Ironing stations will be made available. This area also serves as a changing room, though no showers or sinks are available in this area.

Headsets for foreign languages

The EYD-offers will be translated into 12 languages. The EYD-participants will receive a headset with a language receptor at their Regional Church booths. These headsets can be utilized throughout the entire event area.

Parking Spaces within the LTU arena

The parking garage located beneath the LTU arena is intended for deliveries and material storage, and is not available to the EYD-participants for parking.

Taking your seats

Since it can get pretty full, particularly at the highlight events, it's recommended that you begin an early search for seats with a good view, for a super experience! This is especially for the arena; It is highly recommended that you arrive as early as two hours before commencement of the event and Divine Service.

Catering Halls

Since there are three times as many participants as number of seats available in the catering halls, we kindly request all participants to limit the time spent in the hall to 30 minutes per meal. No worries! There's enough for everyone! But since we'd like to avoid lines, please be so kind as to exercise patience and discipline. Please follow the instructions given by the attending staff.

Information for the Instrumentalists:

General Information LTU arena

Limited storage for music instruments is available in Hall 7.1.

Important: For exact identification of the owner, please keep your personal identification or valid documentation ready.

Participants from the surrounding districts

We have furnished a baggage storage station for participants who are arriving from the surrounding districts on Sunday, and are travelling home after the Divine Service via public transportation. The exact location of the station will be announced at the Youth Day. If possible, please store only one piece of baggage per person (eventually tied together). It would be very helpful if the pieces of baggage are labeled with a name. If you are arriving via automobile or bus, we kindly request that you leave your baggage in the vehicle, if possible, and pick it up after the Divine Service.

Give/Take-Wall Hall 6

Unique souvenirs can be found on the Give/Take-Wall in Hall 6, on the gallery. Think about what you could bring to the Youth Day to exchange it for a unique souvenir! In Hall 6, up on the gallery, you'll find shelving with all kinds of cool items that we received from our Apostles. You'll have the opportunity to pick out a souvenir from one of these shelves. However, you can only do so if you have an item of your own to put back on the shelf to replace it. When exchanging items on the shelf, bear in mind what the item you are taking means to you, and what the item you are leaving will mean to the next person!

Sightseeing Düsseldorf

Welcome to Düsseldorf!

NRW's capital city has a lot to offer – and that's why we offer you free guided city tours in and around Düsseldorf. From Thursday to Saturday, we'll introduce you to "Kunst und Kultur" [Art and Culture], the Old Town and Kö, wander with you "Am Rhein entlang" [along the River Rhine], take a quick trip to Japan or travel back in time to the baroque era. Get to know Düsseldorf from a totally different viewpoint!

All routes will be led in German, English, French, Spanish and Russian and, as far as possible, barrier-free. A sign language interpreter is available upon request. In addition, we'll also be glad to introduce you to the Düsseldorf Department of Marketing and Tourism, to learn more about their many versatile programs.

For further information concerning content, times, and barrier-freedom, as well as registration, you'll find our booth at the exhibition within the entrance area "Nord – Level 0".

We look forward to meeting you!

Car là où deux où trois ...

(Panel Discussion with the Chief Apostle)

“A church in which the people feel comfortable”, is the statement accompanying the vision of the New Apostolic Church. Does that apply to my congregation? How strongly does my well-being depend on the size of the congregation: from its layout, from the formation? In a panel discussion with the Chief Apostle Wilhelm Leber, we will strive to discover what this vision has to do with us, and how we can implement this vision in our congregations and personal surroundings. 21:00–22:30 Open-Air: “Singing in the Light of God”

(Music, readings and prayer)

As the name implies; an open-air event taking place within the courtyard of the exhibition hall.

The event offers interactive fun, reflective moments, and, of course, a lot of music. Eight songs are planned in various languages. You may sing along with the support of a small choir from the open-air stage (You'll find the notes and text in this EYD-Guide). Open singing under an open sky, and a French band and gospel choir, will round out the diversity of the evening.

We will also be singing the EYD-Song together, which has been exclusively composed for this event: It was voted by the Youth (via internet) as the winner. Most importantly; Saturday evening's events will prepare us for the upcoming Divine Service in the LTU arena, where many special guests are scheduled to appear. We hope you're as excited as we are!

Open-Air: “Singing in the Light of God”

(Music, readings and prayer)

As the name implies; an open-air event taking place within the courtyard of the exhibition hall. The event offers interactive fun, reflective moments, and, of course, a lot of music. Eight songs are planned in various languages. You may sing along with the support of a small choir from the open-air stage (You’ll find the notes and text in this EYD-Guide).

Open singing under an open sky, and a French band and gospel choir, will round out the diversity of the evening. We will also be singing the EYD-Song together, which has been exclusively composed for this event: It was voted by the Youth (via internet) as the winner. Most importantly; Saturday evening’s events will prepare us for the upcoming Divine Service in the LTU arena, where many special guests are scheduled to appear. We hope you’re as excited as we are!

Open Air: "Singing in the light of God"

Sa 21:00–22:30 Open-Air: "Singing in the Light of God"
(Music, readings and prayer)

As the name implies; an open-air event taking place within the courtyard of the exhibition hall.

The event offers interactive fun, reflective moments, and, of course, a lot of music. Eight songs are planned in various languages. You may sing along with the support of a small choir from the open-air stage (You'll find the notes and text in this EYD-Guide). Open singing under an open sky, and a French band and gospel choir, will round out the diversity of the evening.

We will also be singing the EYD-Song together, which has been exclusively composed for this event: It was voted by the Youth (via internet) as the winner. Most importantly; Saturday evening's events will prepare us for the upcoming Divine Service in the LTU arena, where many special guests are scheduled to appear. We hope you're as excited as we are!

A – Approaching the EYD 2009

Please be careful while driving to the EYD 2009 location. You are surely transporting valuable freight on board your vehicle (bus, caravan, car or motorcycle)! Please note that, besides the mobile flash unit, installed flash units are also installed in NRW. For example, when arriving from the airport, shortly before the exit to the exhibition grounds, the speed limit of 100km/h will be monitored.

A – Arrival

With the Deutsche Bahn: From Düsseldorf's downtown area, your estimated time of arrival at the grounds is 15 minutes.

With local public transportation: The tram lines U78 and U79 as well as bus line 722 will get you to the exhibition grounds. The line U78 stops in the vicinity of the east entrance, and directly at the northern entrance; The line U79 stops close to the east entrance. You can also change over to Bus 722 at the stop "Stockumer Kirchstrasse/ Messe Ost", which drives to the eastern entrance, the exhibition administration building and the southern entrance.

B – Baggage

A baggage storage station will be made available to those participants arriving on Sunday and travelling via public transportation following the Divine Service. If possible, please store only one piece (eventually bundled) of baggage per person. It would be helpful if the baggage is tagged with the participant's name. The exact location will be announced on the Youth Day. Participants arriving with automobiles or busses are kindly requested to store baggage in their own vehicles for the duration of the Divine Service.

B – Billposting

The posting of bills (posters and stickers, etc) is only permitted with the organizers' consent.

B – Black Suits

A note for ministers bringing their black suits: please insert a name label in the suit's pocket. Irons are available for use. The location of the storage area will be announced.

C – Campgrounds

Should you have failed to rent an on-site camping site, you'll find further information under "accommodation bureau"

C – Camping Mat

All participants are requested to bring along their own camping mat. No padding will be made available.

D – Disabled-Friendly

Messe Düsseldorf has 18 halls that are atgrade. The two upper floors of Hall 7 and areas lain higher in the congress center can be accessed via elevators. In the halls' sanitary facilities, suitable for disabled persons can be found.

The LTU arena is designed to be disabled-friendly. Two access ramps are available for wheelchair users and others with impaired mobility.

For inquiries at any time during the event, please dial: +49 160 251 32 89.

D – Dormitory Halls

Dormitory halls may only be entered with an authorized participation pass.

Security service employees will assign sleeping spots. The dormitory halls are also opened during the day for resting; Please be considerate of others. Rest periods begin at 10:00 pm, lights out and silence from 12:00 am to 6:00 am. Four sanitary islands are located around the dormitory halls and are equipped with 75 shower cubicles, 40 sinks, 10 blow-dryer spots, 16 toilets and urinals. Changing areas can also be found in the tents. The showers may be used between 6:00 am and 12:00 am. To allow all participants the opportunity to shower, please limit your showering time to 10 minutes. Additional shower facilities are located in the changing rooms of the sports premises (sports hall) or the closely located Rheinbad (free admission). Please handle the facilities with care and leave clean after use.

On Sunday, the 24th of May: Please store your baggage on your sleeping spot until pickup after the Divine Service.

D – Dress Code

No need to ask yourself; “What am I going to wear to the Divine Service on Sunday?” All participants may wear the t-shirt received as welcome gift.

D – Düsseldorf

you'd like to discover the city of Düsseldorf on your own, you'll find a few sightseeing tours listed under <http://stadtfuehrungen.duesseldorf-tourismus.de/>

E – Emergency

Please refer to “First Aid”

Telephone number of the paramedics on site: 112

F – First Aid

On-site paramedics are available for First Aid by dialing the emergency number 112.

Please look for the FIRST AID signs. You'll also find FIRST AID in the exhibition doctor's office next to the Entrance "North"

Our medical service is not permitted to treat patients outside of the exhibition grounds. In the event of accident or injury outside of the grounds please call general medical emergency at 112 (fire department) or 110 (police)

G - Gluten-free

Gluten-free wafers must be brought along from your home congregation. Should you have forgotten to do so, you'll receive some at the information booth.

H – Hearing-Impaired

A limited number of headsets are available in blocks 29 and 30 of the arena.

H - Halls & Hours of Operation

In exceptional cases, arrivals are permitted on Wednesday and overnight stays until Monday.

Catering on Thursday from 03:00 pm.

On Wednesday/Thursday, the halls are open as of 06:00 pm

The halls are generally unlocked until 00:45h. Please refer to the schedule concerning ending times of the events. The halls will be locked for the duration of events in the arena, with exception of those halls where broadcasting is taking place.

I – Interpreter/Translator

Every event will be translated into different languages.

You'll find further information to individual events in the program part of your guide.

I –InfoDesk

During the Youth Day, InfoDesk staff will be of assistance at different locations within the halls. InfoDesks offer the following services:

Information from A-Z

- Multilingual information (German, English, Spanish and Japanese)
- Info concerning accommodations (halls and hostels)
- Info concerning events
- Assistance in case of emergencies
- Placement
- Paging of participants
- Handling of complaints

I – Information Hotline

The “Information Hotline” is available during the entire event: +49 180 -3 21 30 11. Please note that this number costs 00.9 cents from a German landline; costs from cell phones could vary.

I- Instruments

Musical instruments can be stored in Hall 7.1. Important note: For identification of the owner, please have your valid identification ready.

I –Internet Cafe

During the European Youth Day, the “i-net Café” offers virtually around-the-clock access to the Internet. You can check your e-mails, upload pictures and connect to the rest of the world. You also have the opportunity to register at the booth for the new online-community “nacworld.net”.

Hours of Operation:

Thursday 16:00h – 24:00h

Friday 09:00h - 24:00h

Saturday 09:00h - 24:00h

A gratis WiFi-network is available to all participants In Hall 7.0. With it, Internet access with mobile-end devices can be operated around-the-clock. The entire exhibition premises is equipped with T-Mobile hotspots. These can be used at the regular T-Mobile rates.

Please note that it is not possible to lock up personal valuables (laptop, etc.); If you bring these items, you do so at your own risk.

L – Locker

Lockers are not available; please carry your valuables with you.

M – Meals During the EYD 2009

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are available to each participant with accommodations in the camps. For participants accommodated with guest families, breakfast should be made available there. Should it not, however, lunch and dinner will be served on-site. Of course, we also offer vegetarian, lactose-free, gluten-free and other types of meals. There are not enough seats located in the catering halls to allow everyone to eat at once, therefore, we kindly request all participants to limit the time spent in the hall to 30 minutes per meal. No worries! There's enough for everyone!

But since we'd like to avoid lines, please be so kind as to exercise patience and discipline, and follow Security's instructions.

On Sunday, meals will be served after the Divine Service.

M – Medical Services

Please refer to "First Aid"

Telephone number of the paramedics on site: 112

O - Overnight Accommodations

You should be accommodated in either a youth camp in one of the dormitory halls on the grounds, on the camping grounds, with guest parents or otherwise. Should you have no accommodations, please check with the "Accommodation Office"

P – Parking Lots

After accessing the arena and exhibition grounds, please follow the signs to parking lot "P1". A total of 19,000 parking spaces are available on the grounds.

P – Procedure before the Divine Service

Before commencement of the Divine Service on Sunday, baggage may be stored in the halls.

P - Public Travel Schedule

Information of the Local Transportation System please refer to "Transport Connections"

R - Relaxation

Should you need rest from the noise in the exhibition halls, you can relax at the Chill-Out Zone in Hall 7.2. (Hours of Operation: Freitag 13:00–19:00h, Saturday 8:30–24:00h)

R – wie Rheinbad

Upon presentation of your participant pass, you can use the closely located "Rheinbad" free of charge.

T – Transportation Connection

Public Transportation

The logo VRR and VRS displayed on the exhibition passes entitles all EYD-participants to use of the public transportation systems of these two networks (with the exception of IC and ICE). This also includes the entire Ruhr area, as well as Greater Cologne/Bonn. The route U78 of the Rheinbahn commutes every 10 minutes between the subway stations “Düsseldorf Hbf (Bstg1)” and “LTU Arena/Messe Nord”. The hours of service have been extended on Fridays and Saturdays to 12:00 a.m.

With Düsseldorf’s Main Train Station as the starting point:

the NachtExpress (night express) commutes to Düsseldorf’s districts on an hourly basis. For night owls on the go in Düsseldorf, the NachtExpress U79 commutes to/from the stops “Düsseldorf Hauptbahnhof” and “Messe Ost/Stockumer Kirchstrasse” as well as “Freiligrathplatz, Bstg 3/4”. It’s a 10-minute drive to the exhibition grounds via the Stockumer Kirchstrasse, from the stop “Messe Ost/Stockumer Kirchstr.” located at Hall 17. The entrance/exit located at Hall 17 is open for this purpose.

Attention: this line has not been increased for the EYD2009.

Arrival with a passenger car:

Visitors reach Düsseldorf via the A52 and A3 (autobahns), from the west via the A44 and A57, from the south via the A57 and A59. The grounds of the International Messe Düsseldorf are located directly adjacent to the “LTU arena”; both are clearly marked throughout the entire city. Due to the fact that the address “LTU-arena-Strasse” is new, and rarely stored in navigation systems, it is recommended to enter your destination as “Flughafen-Düsseldorf”. The autobahn A44’s exit AS29 “Messe-Nord/Arena” leads directly to the LTU arena.

W - Waste

Please leave locations and rooms clean. You’ll find containers for disposals throughout the premises.
