Zurich. For some time, it has been clear that the international president of the New Apostolic Church, Chief Apostle Jean-Luc Schneider, will address the members of the Church personally in a video address. He will do so in English, French, and German.

“I am aware that this represents a significant change to our tradition.” With these words Chief Apostle Jean-Luc Schneider concludes his video address on our concept of ministry. “It will certainly take some time to become accustomed to it.” However, he is absolutely convinced, he says, that this reform will have beneficial effects for the Church.
