Zurich. The New Apostolic Church in Kenya, Tanzania, and Uganda operates as the District Apostle district of East Africa. District Apostle Shadreck Lubasi is responsible for the pastoral and administrative leadership of the Church in the three countries. Since the start of this week, the New Apostolic Church East Africa has had its own website.

Various sections allow visitors to learn more about these countries and their people, culture, and church. For example, by clicking on the "Publications" menu item, visitors can access the magazine "African Joy", which is published in many African District Churches. There is also an introduction of the Church's own relief organisation, which is known as KUMEA.
