

New Apostolic Church
International

NAC Netherlands has a new website design

NL

Home > Church > Bulletin board > NAC Netherlands has a new website design

Amersfoort. “It was high time...” says the new website of the New Apostolic Church in the Netherlands. These words are a reference to the District Church’s fresh, modernised web design, which now also offers numerous new features.

For example, the key word “Gemeenten” (congregations) not only calls up the New Apostolic address book of congregations in Holland, but also an overview from A to Z, as well as local district and congregational news. The website also features content related to the work of the NAC Netherlands in the Dutch Antilles, Malta, and Surinam.

You can find this interesting website using the following link: <http://www.nak-nl.org>.

31 August 2007