

Home > Church > Bulletin board > NAC Switzerland has a new website

NAC Switzerland has a new website

Zurich. Airy, well structured, and very informative—that is how the New Apostolic Church Switzerland is now presenting itself on its new website. Since 1 June 2006 the District Church has presented nine different categories on various subjects.

Short, concise information is revealed at the first click, while further subtitles lead more deeply into each subject heading. The structure of the page borders is conspicuously airy: there is a picture on the top border while the left side lists the various categories on which visitors can click. At the bottom there is additional information. "A warm welcome to the Homepage of the New Apostolic Church Switzerland."

2 June 2006